Fresh proof is furnished dully that a far advanced, from which there seemed ath to recovery has at last been to be no possible escape. "They all bened before the most hopeless victims said," states Mr. Janvrin, "that I had known to medical science, the sufferers from locomotor ataxia, the pains of had degenerated, and that no encouragement and that have a most agonfaing which the human frame is ever compelled to endure."

The achievement almost pages be-

"My legs and feet seemed to be paraylzed. If I made any attempt to lift my feet I suffered the most excrutiating pains. I finally became convinced that I would be utterly incapacitated for business and I simple convented to business, and I simply gave up to de-spondency. The disease was growing worse, and the doctors could give me no hope. What was I to do?

"I had little faith left in the possibillty of recovery by any means, but one day in January, 1903. I happened to read in a pamphlet some remarkable cures of nervous diseases effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Although I was a despairing man I for-tunately decided to give them a trial. I used two boxes before I saw any signs of improvement. Then I began to have a slight hope that they might possibly save me from the death to which I had been doomed

"I continued to take the pills with growing confidence and my condition steadily improved all the while. Before the tenth box was entirely gone I was able to take up my work again and to do it the same as before I was first at-tacked. My cure was complete in every respect, and it has been permanent, for I am now at work every day, and no one judging from my present activity would suspect that a year ago I was would suspect that a year ago I was both helplers and hopeless.

"My cure seems to me remarkable in itself and also in its quickness and in-expensiveness. I had been condemned to die as suffering from a disease for Janvin of Hampton Falls, N. H., whose to die as suffering from a disease for recovery furnishes convincing evidence of the power of the new remedy.

Mr. Janvin was attacked about three years ago by what he at first thought was rheumatism. He did the thought was rheumatism. He did the confidence in them is naturally great usual thing—applied liniments to his I am never without a box of them in large which were the parts effected and my thought was received and my thought was the parts of the minutes of the my doctors knew no remedy, and yet I was made a perfectly well man in the minutes of the my doctors knew no remedy, and yet I was made a perfectly well man in the my doctors knew no remedy, and yet I was made a perfectly well man in the my doctors knew no remedy, and yet I was made a perfectly well man in the my doctors knew no remedy, and yet I was made a perfectly well man in the my doctors knew no remedy, and yet I was made a perfectly well man in the my doctors knew no remedy, and yet I was made a perfectly well man in the my doctors knew no remedy, and yet I was made a perfectly well man in the my doctors knew no remedy. as, which were the parts affected, and 1 my home, and I can scarcely say too
